CAMDEN CULLINGS

They say that Combs returned the pants That clothes line thieves are busy— That Elm street ladies lost some of their apparel— That great interest centers in the legislative hearing, the 23d— That a Camden professional man was invited out on other evening, and took his trunk with him.

The Ruskin Club has reorganized for the winter. The following are members: Misses Anna Bucklin, Lena Cleveland, Myrtle French, Anne Kittredge, Hattie Gill, Jennie Prince, Mary Hopkins, Florence Towle, Inez Monroe and Florence Knowlton. They meet every Wednesday evening.

COUNTY CHAT.

A prominent Camden citizen when he takes a full breath nowadays stands up. He was comfortably reclining in a chair the other day, and taking a deep inspiration wrecked the chair.

Frances E. Hurley of Rockland appeared from the decree of Judge Meservy made at the session of court held the third Tuesday of December, 1894, allowing the third account of J. H. H. Hewitt, administrator on the estate of Samuel Hurley, late of Rockland. Mrs. Hurley claims that the administrator was allowed in said account $2400 for certain property charges to have been distributed by her to Mrs. Hurley. She denies having received this property. The appeal to the S. J. Court is allowed. The facts in the case are these: The property in question is stock that has so depreciated in value that it is comparatively worthless. What the will was made it had good value. It has been tendered but is refused. She claims, through counsel, that she should receive the value at which the stock was inventoried. W. H. Fogler appears for Mrs. Hurley, and Mortland & Johnson for the administrator. A. M. Austin and Lavina M. Snow are sureties on Mrs. Hurley's appeal bond.

H. I. Studley of Minneapolis, Minn., has tendered his resignation as administrator on the estate of Moses Studley, late of Warren.

Oliver, on estate of Elmira Carnes, who died at Vinalhaven, April 20, 1881. (Objection was made to this at the time, and since then, on matter, has been settled and at this term of court the petition was denied as a matter of form.

Horace M. and Frances E. Stevens were permitted to adopt Lydia, infant daughter of John and Ida C. Nason.

E. H. Piper, administrator on the estate of John D. Piper, late of Rockport, furnished a bond for $3000, A. F. Piper of Rockport and C. S. Richards of Portland being sureties.

The second and final account of W. R. Rowell, administrator on estate of Thomas Wentworth, late of Hope, presented by administrator Leonard W. R. Rowell's estate, showed amount received $819.97, and the same received.

Business in the Insolvency Court was also a little slack. M. A. Rice, assignee of Wm. J. Hurley, insolvent debtor, presented his first account.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system, when entering it through the mucous surface, such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh is manufactured by J. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, working directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, free.

AFTER YEARS.

Old Vinalhaven Resident Revisits the Town. Sees Changes and Mourns Departed Friends.

VINALHAVEN, Jan. 19, 1895.

EDITOR COURIER-GAZETTE.—I thought perhaps you would like a letter from me at this time, after an absence of 13 years from this my old home. There are many, many changes! Old faces and forms have gone, never to return. The cemetery tells the story of many a departure. The young have grown up to be men and women, to be fathers and mothers, who are to move the destinies of the near future of Vinalhaven. Those who have had the making of this village, as to its growth and development in the past, have done grandly, and I have no fear that their sons and daughters will fall behind them.

There are some things Vinalhaven yet needs very much. She needs a bank, a telephone line and above all more churches. A western village of this size would support at least three churches and sometimes four. The more churches a town has the more people attend them. The Sunday School is the great educator of good morals and spiritual knowledge. We cannot all be Baptists, Methodists or Presbyterians, but we can all cast our influence for some one or all the different church organizations.

I hope this old home of mine will continue its onward march of progress, and that my old friends and neighbors may live many years and enjoy the good things they may raise up as monuments for future generations.

I miss the faces of Uncle Moses Webster, Wm. Kittredge, Gilman Webster, Reuben Carver, David Vinal and scores of others who sleep in the silent tomb. Their work is ended and soon ours too will be finished, and I trust and hope that all I ever knew in this beautiful town may at the last and great final day be gathered together never to separate and that I may sit down with them at the right hand of God.

It banishes those distressing maladies that make woman's life a burden, curing all painful irregularities, uterine disorders, inflammations and ulceration, prolapsus and kindred weaknesses. As a nerve tonic it cures nervous exhaustion, prostration, debility, relieves mental anxiety and hypochondria and induces refreshing sleep. She took the advice and is well. CRITICISING A YOUNG LADY.

"She would be a pretty girl but for one thing."

"What's that?" asked Charley.

"George—'Her face is always covered with purple and red blotches.'"

Charley—"Oh, that's easily enough disposed of. Used to be the same way myself, but I caught on to the trouble one day, and got rid of it in no time."

George—"What was it?"

Charley—"Simply blood eruptions. Took a short course of P. P. P. I tell you, it's the best blood corrector. The governor had rheumatism so bad that you could hear him holler clear across the country every time he moved. He tried it and you know what an athletic old gent he is now. If somebody would give Miss Daisy a pointer, she would thank them afterwards. All the 'drugs stores sell it."

We are in receipt of many inquiries as to the identity of our Vinalhaven editor and requests for his photograph come in by every mail. To send photographs in answer to these numerous requests would shortly bankrupt us, so, as we are, in order to satisfy these requests we publish his picture below. It is taken while at his desk, evolving some of the trenchant editorials that from time to time shake the island from its center to its circumference.

There have been built this last year several houses, a hotel, stables, blacksmith shop and a store. All of these have been built by Mr. Ginn, and he now contemplates erecting in the spring a block to contain six tenements for the accommodation of the people at work there, as last summer there was a larger force employed and even this winter they are running quite a large crew.

At the main village there have been about 30 buildings built and a large three-story block erected by the Memorial Society. Many more contemplate building in the spring, and are already having foundations put in for the same.

The grand horse trot came of Wednesday under the management of Mr. Reeves, which was a great success, and drew a large crowd of people. There were five entries in the second class race. The experience of a late man-of-war's man, MR. EDWARD DAVIS, of FRIENDSHIP, ME., proves this most conclusively.
